HERE IN ~~SCORCHING~~ AUSTIN,

Rosé has become a year round dining companion. But there's nothing quite like sipping on a chilled bottle of rosé when the temps reach ungodly summertime extremes.

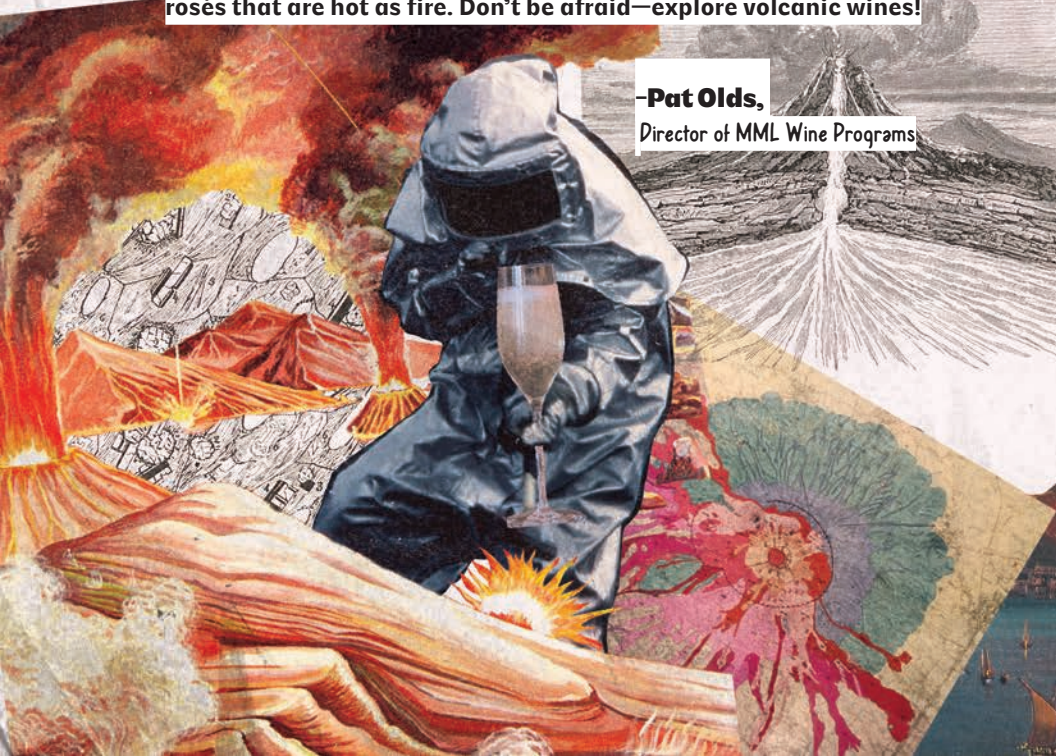

And speaking of lava hot, this year's annual June's Rosé Wine Zine highlights the pink stuff from volcanic-rich soils. Think regions with active volcanoes like Sicily, Canary Islands, and Corsica to the fertile Willamette Valley in Oregon.

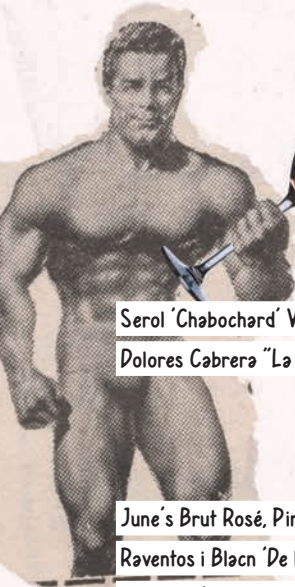

And what makes wine from volcanic soil so explosively compelling? It's all about their intense acidity, minerality through the roof, and unprecedented concentration of grape flavor.

The zine you're holding right now is erupting with thirst-quenching rosés that are hot as fire. Don't be afraid—explore volcanic wines!

—Pat Olds,

Director of MML Wine Programs

VOLCANIC ROSÉ

GIACOMETTI PATRIMOINE ROSÉ "CRU DES AGRIATE" 2022

68

A tart rosé with pomegranate and cherry notes made from two indigenous Corsican grapes—Nielluccio and Sciacarello.

80 BENANTI NERELLO MASCALESE ROSÉ 2022

The Benanti family is known for elegant, fresh, and bright red fruit rosés from the Etna appellation. It's not usual for ash to fall on the vineyards.

DOLORES CABRERA "LA ARAUCARIA" ROSADO 2022 16/60

Produced from over 100 years old Listan Negro grape vines (a varietal widely planted in Spain's Canary Islands), this natural-style wine from a pioneer in organic farming packs a punch with a saline, fruity finish.

CLOS CANARELLI CORSE FIGARI ROSÉ, FRANCE 2022

98

Clos Canarelli is a Corsican wine pioneer known for growing native grapes. This fresh, funky rosé has a bit more depth and complexity than the average pink stuff.

SOKOL BLOSSER 65
ESTATE ROSE 2022
DUNDEE HILLS

An OG Oregon producer, Sokol Blosser's rosé is bright red, crisp, and tart thanks to the Willamette Valley's legendary 'Jory' soils with its high volcanic clay.

SEROL 'CABOCHARD'
ROSE 2022 15/56

A Gamay-based rosé with way more energy, minerality, and aromatics than your average Beaujolais. A zippy wine from one of the cool-kid producers beloved in Paris.

VINATIGO LISTAN 74
NEGRO ROSADO 2023

Tenerife, the largest of Spain's Canary Islands, is a magical holiday destination that produces equally beautiful wines. This Listan Negro grape varietal wine is incredibly light and refreshing.

STANZA TERRENA
'CAMELIE'
ROSATO TERRE
SICILIANE 2021 82

Incredibly complex, soulful Etna wine from Giuseppe "Mezzaluna" Grasso that is wild, tart, funky, and fresh.
